RESEARCH EXPERIENCE:

International Research:

Erbil, Kurdistan, Iraq

- Geospatial pattern of health among women in Kurdistan, 2010- present.

San Jose, Costa Rica

- Food access and availability and obesity in Costa Rican school children. Summer 2009.

Santiago, Chile

- Feasibility study to examine prevalence of obesity among Chilean school children, June 2008.

Bangkok, Thailand

- Health outcomes in the Mekong Region Basin – with East Asian Studies, Thammasat University, Rangsit Thailand. Summers, 2011, 2012, and 2013.
- Examined obesity among Thai adolescents in suburban Bangkok, June – October 2005.
- Pilot study to examine prevalence of overweight and obesity among Thai adolescent girls. May – June, 2004.

Managua, Nicaragua

- Longitudinal examination of anthropometric, nutritional, and biocultural indicators from Nicaraguan adolescent girls. Study includes evaluation of a nutrition education program. January 2001 to present.

Paris, France

- Examination of nutritional status of Malian adolescent girls born and raised in metropolitan France. Paris, France. Summer 2000.

Mali

- Examination of anthropometric, maturational, dietary, wealth, energy expenditure data, and ethnographic data collected from adolescent girls from the Segou Region of Mali (10-17 years). Doctoral Research 1997-1999.
- In collaboration with Dr. Nathan Shier, Department of Nutrition, Indiana University, analyzed urine samples from Malian girls for iodine concentration. Indiana University, Nutrition Lab, Bloomington, IN. 1999-2002.
- In collaboration with the Dr. Nathan Shier, Department of Nutrition, Indiana University, analyzed food samples collected in Mali and Benin for calcium and magnesium content. Indiana University, Nutrition Lab, Bloomington, IN. 1994-1996.
- Pilot study for dissertation research in Mali. Conducted ethnographic research on daily activities of adolescent girls in Mali. Summer 1994.
- Undergraduate Honors Fellows Program. Investigated growth patterns of Malian children 0 to 13 years. Looked at the relationships between growth, socioeconomic status, and cultural eating patterns. Texas A&M University, College Station, TX. 1990-1991.

Other Current Research Activities:

- Diet, food purchasing and eating behaviors among patients with chronic liver disease in the Washington DC region. In Collaboration with Inova Health System, Center for Liver Diseases, Fairfax, VA. Zobair Younossi (PI)
- Effectiveness of nutrition intervention program in Washington DC public charter schools.
- Demographic Health Survey analyses from Kenya and Mali.
